Let Allworx and CIT get you into the VoIP system you want with the ability to upgrade and refresh your technology in three years. Zero percent financing makes it happen!

Lease financing offers the best opportunity for customers to acquire the equipment they need for their long term technology strategy. By having available competitive offers to lease, it gives your customers greater control of their current and long term plans. This offer allows your customers to acquire a solution cost-effectively, and also manage it wisely throughout its lifecycle. With a True Lease, an organization is able to plan more effectively for their future by paying for the use of the equipment solution, rather than its ownership. At the end of the lease term, options include upgrading the solution and or extending the lease term, purchasing the equipment or returning it to CIT Communications Finance.
